

Did You Know?

by Violet P.

Did you know, the Tasmanian Tiger is an animal that was believed to be extinct in the 20th century? But people may have seen them in uncharted areas. Are they really extinct!? These animals had many unique abilities. They could stand on their hind legs and use their tails to balance just like a kangaroo-minus the pouch. They had a striped back, not unlike a zebra. Each Tasmanian tiger had a different stripe pattern. NONE were the same. They had a trick to open their mouths really wide while eating. It's amazing. They were the largest carnivorous marsupial in modern times. They ate all the sheep when people from other lands came. Those people ended up killing the poor Tasmanian tiger until near extinction. You can find more info on the internet.

Join the Kindness Challenge!

by Autrey C.

This week's challenge is: "Greet All Paras Kindly!" Obviously, you should be kind to EVERYONE! But this week, when you meet Mrs. Swan, Mrs. Lalouette, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. O'Connor, Mrs. Nguyen, or Mrs. Haluza, be sure to do something nice! A please and thank you go a long way to making their day a good one!

Book Reviews

by Ailish O. and Chloe S.

One amazing series is The Land of Stories. The author is Chris Colfer. This genre is fiction fantasy! You can get the series at Bergen Valley, any public library, and bookstores around Denver and Evergreen. If you like thick books, this series is right for you. These books average 400-450 pages long. The two main characters are Alex and Conner. In the first book they have to find their way back home. In the second book, we wonder if they will save their mom. Finally, in third book they have to save the land of stories and their grandma. There are 3 other great reads in the series. A big cliffhanger is: "Is the masked man our dad?" I would highly recommend these books. I'm Ailish! Bye!

Chloe here reporting on the book series: The Unwanteds. This book series is written by the New York Times bestselling author, Lisa McMann. She has written this series of 7 amazingly written books with 300 - 500 pages each. The genre of these books are fantasy and fiction. You can get these awesome books at any public library in Colorado, the Bergen Valley library (but we only have book one currently), Barnes and Noble, Hearthfire in Evergreen, and at Walmart.

In this series the main characters are Alex Stowe, Aaron Stowe, Lani Haluki, Simber, Samheed, Megan Ranger, Sean Ranger, Silent girl and Silent boy. Aaron and Alex trying to solve their differences, save their friends, and their own lives. Read this series to find out more about Alex and Aaron Stowe's adventures. I bet you will love it!